

Web Design & Development | Victoria, BC

Pixel Sweatshop specializes in Drupal Content Management System (CMS) web design and development. We develop applications for our clients on free Open Source software, letting us leverage the collective work of tens of thousands of developers. Giving us an incredibly robust and stable base to start projects and giving our clients the best and most affordable tools available. We also offer custom logo and print design services to go along with your new website.